

Voice Mail is great for surfing the internet. Whether dial-up or broadband Voice Mail allows you to surf without interruption and without missing a call. Simply retrieve your messages on your schedule.

Check for messages simply by listening for a stuttered dial tone. We also provide a message waiting signal that works with many phones and caller ID boxes providing a visual indication of any waiting messages eliminating the need to even pick up the phone to check for any waiting messages.

With the auto login feature you can program speed dial on your phone for one button message retrieval.
